

Libby Phippard

BIOGRAPHY

SHORT BIO – 20/02/2021

Libby Phippard is a singer-songwriter from London, blending classical elements with modern sounds and diction-heavy vocals, with folk influences like Hozier and popular artists like Taylor Swift and Ed Sheeran. (30 words)

MEDIUM BIO – 20/02/2021

Libby Phippard is a singer-songwriter from London. With a background in classical music and training in operatic singing, she blends classical elements with modern sounds and diction-heavy vocals, drawing on folk influences like Hozier and Mumford and Sons as well as more popular artists like Taylor Swift, Ed Sheeran and Ariana Grande to create something truly unique. (57 words)

LONG BIO – 20/02/2021

Born and raised in London, Libby became interested in music at a young age. She started composing through songwriting while at school before studying music and composition at University of York, initially training to become an opera singer. She has since come back to London and started writing songs more actively, with her debut single, Forever, launched in September 2020.

Despite Forever being her first release, Libby has been writing songs for over a decade. She specialises in singing classically, performing as a soloist in notable venues around the world such as the Sydney Opera House. Her original music draws on her classical background as well as folk influences such as Mumford and Sons and Hozier, incorporating a classical approach to harmony and vocal lines and bringing her operatic technique down into a lower tone to create something altogether unique. (140 words)